Financial risk management objectives and policies

The company's financial instruments comprise guaranteed bonds and intercompany debt. The main purpose of these financial instruments is to finance the group's operations.

The main qualitative and quantitative risks arising from the company's financial instruments are liquidity risk, credit risk and interest rate risk. The directors review and agree the policies for managing each of these risks and they are summarised below.

Liquidity risk

The maturity of group debt facilities and other amortising loans, are managed such that at any one time all have a time to maturity of more than one year, and that at least 50% by value have a time to maturity of more than two years.

Debt and facility maturities avoid excessive concentrations in any twelve month period, as well as the period around regulatory reset dates where possible.

The balance sheet of the company and note 3 shows group intercompany balances with the parent of the company, being Northern Gas Networks Limited which is a going concern. The directors do not consider the recovery of this debt a risk.

Credit and interest rate risk

Any credit and interest rate exposure to the company is borne by the parent company as all costs are recharged.

Statement of accounting policies

For the year ended 31 March 2017

The principal accounting policies are summarised below. They have all been applied consistently throughout the year and the prior year.

Basis of accounting

Northern Gas Network Finance plc is a company incorporated in the United Kingdom under the companies act. The company is a private company limited by shares and is registered in England and Wales. The address of the company is 1100 Century Way, Leeds, LS8 1NF. The accounts have been prepared under the historical cost convention, modified to include certain items at fair value, and in accordance with Financial Reporting Standard 102 (FRS 102) issued by the Financial Reporting Council. Principle activities and nature of operations are shown in the strategic report.

The functional and presentational currency is considered to be pounds sterling because that is the currency of the primary economic environment in which the company operates.

The company is exempt from the requirement of FRS102 (Section 7) to present a cash flow statement as it is a wholly owned subsidiary of NGNH, which prepares consolidated accounts which are publicly available. Disclosure exemptions have been taken in relation to financial instruments, and remuneration of key management personnel on the basis that it is a wholly owned subsidiary of NGNH which produce consolidated accounts.

Going concern

The company's business activities, performance and position, together with the principal risks and uncertainties likely to affect its future development and performance, are set out in the strategic report on page 2. The directors have made enquiries and reviewed the forecasts, and in light of the facilities available, have a reasonable expectation that the company has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. Accordingly, they continue to adopt the going concern basis in preparing the Annual Report and accounts.

Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when the company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument financial liabilities and equity instruments are classified according to the substance of the contractual arrangements entered into. An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of the company after deducting all of its liabilities.

Financial assets and liabilities

All financial assets and liabilities are initially measured at transaction price (including transaction costs), except for those financial assets classified as at fair value through profit or loss, which are initially measured at fair value (which is normally the transaction price excluding transaction costs), unless the arrangement constitutes a financing transaction. If an arrangement constitutes a financing transaction, the financial asset or financial liability is measured at the present value of the future payments discounted at a market rate of interest for a similar debt instrument.

Financial assets and liabilities are only offset in the statement of financial position when, and only when there exists a legally enforceable right to set off the recognised amounts and the company intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Debt instruments which meet the following conditions are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method:

- a) The contractual return to the holder is (i) a fixed amount; (ii) a positive fixed rate or a positive variable rate; or (iii) a combination of a positive or a negative fixed rate and a positive variable rate.
- b) The contract may provide for repayments of the principal or the return to the holder (but not both) to be linked to a single relevant observable index of general price inflation of the currency in which the debt instrument is denominated, provided such links are not leveraged.
- c) The contract may provide for a determinable variation of the return to the holder during the life of the instrument, provided that (i) the new rate satisfies condition (a) and the variation is not contingent on future events other than (1) a change of a contractual variable rate; (2) to protect the holder against credit deterioration of the issuer; (3) changes in levies applied by a central bank or arising from changes in relevant taxation or law; or (ii) the new rate is a market rate of interest and satisfies condition (a).
- d) There is no contractual provision that could, by its terms, result in the holder losing the principal amount or any interest attributable to the current period or prior periods.
- e) Contractual provisions that permit the issuer to prepay a debt instrument or permit the holder to put it back to the issuer before maturity are not contingent on future events, other than to protect the holder against the credit deterioration of the issuer or a change in control of the issuer, or to protect the holder or issuer against changes in levies applied by a central bank or arising from changes in relevant taxation or law.

- f) Contractual provisions may permit the extension of the term of the debt instrument, provided that the return to the holder and any other contractual provisions applicable during the extended term satisfy the conditions of paragraphs (a) to (c).

Debt instruments that are classified as payable or receivable within one year on initial recognition and which meet the above conditions are measured at the undiscounted amount of the cash or other consideration expected to be paid or received, net of impairment.

With the exception of some hedging instruments, other debt instruments not meeting these conditions are measured at fair value through profit or loss.

Commitments to make and receive loans which meet the conditions mentioned above are measured at cost (which may be nil) less impairment.

Financial assets are derecognised when and only when a) the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire or are settled, b) the Group transfers to another party substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset, or c) the Group, despite having retained some, but not all, significant risks and rewards of ownership, has transferred control of the asset to another party.

Financial liabilities are derecognised only when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expires.

Critical accounting judgments and key sources of estimation uncertainty

The directors are not aware of any critical accounting judgments or key sources of estimation uncertainty with these accounts.
